

ROBBED STORE IN BROADWAY'S BUSIEST PART

Burglars Work Successfully
Where White Lights and Pedestrians Abound.

Ellison's shoe store, at No. 1335 Broadway, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, a block of the city in which the tide of life is never stilled, was entered by thieves last night and thoroughly ransacked. The whole store, from plate-glass front to the rear wall, is in full view from Broadway all night and the electric lights are left burning. This condition was, apparently, no handicap to the enterprising crooks.

The police who discovered the burglary to-day after Manager Willoughby had reported it at the Tenderloin station, are at a loss to figure out how the thieves entered the building. From the fact that in climbing from the roof of a one-story extension to the shoe store to the floor they used an iron fire-escape ladder taken from the Herald Square Theatre, it is inferred that they gained the roof of the theatre building by means of the fire-escape on the Thirty-fifth street side, crawled on the roof of No. 1335 and descended to the floor of the extension by the fire-escape.

There is a skylight in the middle of the extension roof and across the skylight opening there was a network of strong iron bars. The thieves pried out three bars, dropped the Herald Square Theatre ladder through the opening and descended thereby, also ascending by the same medium when they departed. They left the ladder in the shoe store.

Once within the store and visible from Broadway the thieves forced the manager's desk and tried to force the safe. They stole about a case of russet oxford lace in assorted sizes, a $50 coat and a small amount of cash.

Mr. Willoughby closed the store at 11:30 o'clock last night and opened up at 7 o'clock to-day. The robbery was committed some time between midnight and daylight. A policeman is supposed to pass No. 1335 Broadway every few minutes all night and pedestrians pass at all hours.

After robbing the shoe store the robbers tried to break into the establishment of the Butterick Pattern Company at No. 1343 Broadway, by way of the cellar. They pried out a floor ventilator, but the opening was too small to allow admittance.

Better than the Old Days.

(From the Washington Star.)
"Do you think that actors get the training now that they once had?"
"Yes," answered Mr. Stonington Barnes. "I am happy to say that they get more training than ever. I remember the time when my company would travel for miles without seeing the inside of a train."

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD WIFE AS SHE LOOKED IN COURT

(Photographed by an Evening World Staff Artist.)

Lena Stark in Court.

Lena Stark, Who Presents Claim Against Wealthy Jacob Finelite, a Pretty Child, Simple-Minded as Average Girl of Her Age.

All the east side is discussing to-day one of the most remarkable cases that has come into the local courts in years, that of Miss Lena Stark, the Jewish child, whose mother claims that she was married to Jacob Finelite, a wealthy retired real estate dealer of this city, in a Jersey City saloon in January last. There have been two hearings in court in this case already and on both occasions Finelite has maintained that he never saw the child before. A final hearing will be held on June 21, and, like the hearing yesterday, will be private. The details of the case of this alleged child wife are such that Magistrate Finn does not believe they ought to be made public.

The little girl's mother says that she is eleven years old, but her brother says she is fourteen. In any case, she is nothing but a child. She is a rather pretty girl, very well developed for her age, but as simple minded as a girl of her years would be expected to be. The rabbi that married her says he married her to Finelite, and other witnesses to the ceremony say the marriage was regular. Their statements are backed up by a Jewish marriage certificate, the authenticity of which was testified to by a rabbi at the proceedings in the Jefferson Market Police Court.

FATALLY HURT BY SLEEP FALL

Joseph Rouse, Aged 12, Sombambulist, Tumbles from a Window and Is Dying, Though Only Mark of Injury Is a Scratched Toe.

Joseph Rouse, twelve years old, is dying in J. Hood Wright Hospital from injuries received early to-day by falling from the fifth story window of No. 25 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street.

A woman in the house was awakened before dawn by a crash in the rear yard, and, looking out, saw the child and gave the alarm.

The boy's father explained that the little fellow ever since he had been able to walk had been a somnambulist, but never before had gone near a window.

When the boy was examined at the hospital there was only a scratch on his arm, and that on one of his toes, but his condition denoted internal injuries from which the physicians say he cannot recover.

Reciprocity in Business.

(From the Philadelphia Telegraph.)
The owner of the Makepiece Flour Mills looked sternly at the provision dealer, who had for some years supplied the wants of his household. "Those apples you sent us were good," he said, with a heavy eye fixed on the other man's face, "but they were in undersized barrels, my wife tells me, smaller than ever before. She says that the three barrels would scarcely make two and a half of the proper size. How do you account for it?" "I can't," said the provision dealer, with a pained expression of mind. "I don't know. I had my wife send me down three of your barrels that we've been getting flour in, and she packed the apples in and headed 'em up with burdock." "Burdock?" said the flour dealer. "I believe in reciprocity, and I'm bound to have first as good measure of apples as we set of flour," I says. Now, don't it beat all?"

MURAD Cigarettes are the unanimous preference of the most discriminating critics in the world—the stars of the theatrical profession.

James T. Powers, Henry Miller, Guy Bates Post, Frederic de Belleville, Harry Woodruff, Jameson Lee Finney, Maclyn Arbuckle, J. E. Dodson, J. W. Herbert, and other well-known actors have already commended the Murad in no uncertain way. Note, now, what ten more stars say of and take the first opportunity to try them yourself.

Murad Cigarettes are in reality the exclusive brand of the Sultan and his officials, brought to America through their maker, Allan Ramsay, the world's leading authority on Turkish tobacco, and for sixteen years government expert of Turkey.

Ten for 15 cents.
